The Base package delivers a secure foundation for leveraging ChatGPT and GenAI technologies, with the added assurance that your data stays within your organization. A standout feature of this package is its advanced document processing capability. This allows you to upload documents directly into a chat thread and perform queries against them, significantly boosting your organization's productivity by streamlining information retrieval and analysis through GenAI, all while maintaining stringent security standards.	The Plus package elevates organizational data interaction to new heights, not only by allowing the upload and extraction of specific information from a diverse range of documents, such as contracts, invoices, and leases, but also by prominently featuring AI Assistants. This standout feature empowers users to craft their own GPT functions, which can be seamlessly integrated with a document library. These custom functions can be finely tuned according to their intended purpose or function, offering unparalleled flexibility and efficiency in data analysis and interaction.	The Premium package is the ultimate offering that encapsulates all the features of the Base and Plus packages, and goes a step further by providing seamless integration with your systems or data warehouse. This integration ensures that you can not only upload and query documents and utilize custom AI Assistants for tailored GPT functions, but also directly connect to and converse with the vast amounts of data housed in your organizational data warehouse. The Premium package is the pinnacle of data interaction, offering a comprehensive, secure, and highly customizable experience for those who require the most advanced capabilities in data analysis and management.
